Anti-social behaviour on Noble Way Cheswick Green

Monday 19th October 2020

Dear resident,

we have received numerous reports of a group of youths causing anti-social behaviour in Noble Way, Cheswick Green. The group were reportedly behaving in the following manner:

- Being verbally abusive to residents.
- Cycling at cars, swerving at the last minute.
- Throwing litter on the floor outside residents properties.
- Playing knock door run.
- Hitting shrubbery belonging to residents.

We take these reports very seriously and as a response, the Shirley and Blythe neighbourhood policing team have increased their high visibility patrols in the area, and have been working in partnership with local schools to try to identify members of the group.

We have now identified a number of young people responsible, who have each attended Solihull Police Station with their parents. They have all been advised in relation to future conduct, and have also been served with an acceptable behaviour contract which clearly states that this type of behaviour will not be tolerated in the future.
